2. Purpose

The purpose of this Agreement is to ensure the joint controllers determine their respective responsibilities of data processing in a transparent manner for compliance with the obligations under the EU's General Data Protection Regulation.

3. Definition of data subject

Data subjects are individuals whose personal data is collected, processed, or stored by an organization. Under data protection laws like the GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation), a data subject is any identified or identifiable natural person whose data is being processed.

The data subjects in this research project are research participants, such as young people (aged 15 to 30) and adult experts representing various groups of stakeholders.

4. Obligations of all parties

- All parties acknowledge the GDPR (EU 2016/679) and commit to complying with its requirements.
- Each party will ensure that data subjects receive the required information, as outlined in Articles 13 and 14 of the GDPR (EU 2016/679), when their personal data is collected. This includes providing details such as the identity of the data controller, the data protection officer (if applicable), the purpose and legal basis for processing, and the recipients of the data. This information may be communicated through a privacy statement or other appropriate means.
- Each party agrees to implement reasonable and appropriate technical and organizational measures to safeguard personal data, minimizing the risk of data breaches.
- In the event of a serious information security incident, the affected party will immediately notify all other parties. This ensures a joint assessment of whether the incident qualifies as a reportable data breach. The parties will keep each other informed about any breach notifications made by the data controller and any communications with data subjects regarding the breach.
- Each party will ensure that data subjects can exercise their GDPR rights, including the right to access, rectify, erase, restrict processing, and request data portability, where applicable.
- If a data subject submits a GDPR request to one party, that party will inform all other relevant parties. The parties will collaborate to ensure the request is fully addressed. The first party receiving the request will be responsible for communicating with the data subject.
- If a party undergoes an audit by a supervisory authority related to a joint activity, the other parties will provide support, including supplying any relevant information requested by the authority.
- This Joint Controllership Agreement is based on Regulation (EU) 2016/679 (General Data Protection Regulation – GDPR) and applies across all relevant jurisdictions. Where national data protection laws impose more stringent provisions than the GDPR (EU 2016/679), the applicable national legislation shall take precedence. However, compliance with national laws shall not result in a violation of the fundamental principles and obligations set out in the GDPR (EU 2016/679). In cases where national laws prevail, all data controllers must be informed in detail. This includes a comprehensive explanation of the applicable national provisions, the specific requirements that differ from the GDPR (EU 2016/679), and any necessary adjustments to our data protection practices to ensure full compliance with both legal frameworks. The data controllers will assess the impact with the data controllers and ensure that all measures align with our overarching commitment to data privacy and security.

- It is further acknowledged that all project partners, including those from associated countries such as the United Kingdom and Kosovo, are participating under the Horizon Europe programme framework. This association requires them to adhere to the same data protection, ethical, and legal standards as EU-based partners, thereby ensuring consistent application of GDPR principles and related obligations throughout the consortium.

5. Duration

This Agreement shall remain in effect for the duration of the involvement of all parties in the research project.
